Mass Meeting of the Citizens of Cloverport.

The following resolution adopted, which fully entitled it to regard in the mass chins.

Resolved, By this mass meeting of the citizens of Cloverport, that the Mayor and Council of the city of Cloverport be requested to issue and deliver the bonds voted by the people to the Louisville, St. Louis and Texas Railway Company for the machine shops upon the execution to A. B. Skillman trustee as provided in the ordinance and propositions of a Trust Deed for the shop ground bargained to the Dred for the shop ground bargained to W. V. McCracken for the purpose.

An impression seems to have gotten abroad that the suit filed last week at Hardinsburg by the Louisville, Hardinsburg and Western Railroad Company, Mr. McCracken and others will affect the delivery of the Precinct bonds voted in aid of the road by the Hardinsburg and part of the Forks of Precincts. This impression is entirely erroneous, and the suit filed by the Railway Company will not in any way affect the Precinct bonds, or their delivery to W. V. McCracken & Co., when the first suit of claim shall be filed in aid over the road.

The bonds are now held by the Fidelity Trust and Safe Vault Co. of Louisville, to be delivered whenever the first train shall run over the road. No steps have yet been taken to test the validity of these bonds, nor have we heard of any effort being taken in that direction.

We hope that the road will be legally and properly voted and issued, we do not care, but we suppose, if the bonds are allowed to be delivered and pass into the hands of innocent purchasers, no defense could then be made to their payment.

Sixty-four J. C. S. Blackburn, speaking recently in the re-election to the United States Senate, a Representative in the Kentucky Legislature this winter, says that he does not believe he will have any formidable opposition. The gentlemen who have been heretofore spoken of as candidates, he thinks will not be in the race. Said Col. Blackburn, "I have not written a single letter nor personally addressed a single Representative in the next Legislature in regard to my candidacy, yet I have received letters from a majority of the Democratic members pledging their support to me."

We understand there is a movement on foot to consolidate the Cloverport Mineral, Gold Fortune and Mineral Center Gas Company, and to bring it up to the Louisville and Frankfort line. This is a move in the right direction and the sooner done the better it will be for the town, gas companies and all concerned.

We can't hope to get the outside world interested in our gas until we begin to utilize it ourselves.

A. F. Foss, editor of the Owsoboro Inquirer, has severed his connection with that paper and will go to Frankfort this winter to act as correspondent of the Louisville Times. Mr. Foss is one of the best allround newspaper men in the State, and the press of Owsoboro loses a valuable member.

Gen. J. D. Powers and Stephen Powers of Owsoboro, and Col. J. C. Fauett, of Louisville, have organized themselves into a company to contract the building of railroads. Their place of business is Louisville, and the style of their company the Indiana Contract Company.

Mr. James L. Patterson thinks he is something of a taggit himself. However the News editor hasn't the time nor the inclination to go into a lengthy dissertation upon the subject at present, and can only say to brother Patterson that we may see him later.

A. L. Trimble, Whaler Trimble has been convicted of murder and his penalty fixed at death. Trimble is a young man 16 years of age and killed the man with whom he was engaged in a game of cards in a dispute over ten cents.

Geo. H. Pendleton, ex-Senator from Ohio, died at Brussels, Belgium, on Friday, Dec. 1, 1889. He was a staunch Democrat and for many years prominent in the public affairs of the country.

The New York grand jury has returned an indictment for murder in the first degree against Mrs. Hanna Southard, who killed Stephen Petts a week ago.

The evidence in the great Crossin murder trial at Chicago is all in and the lawyers propose to take up ten days in arguing the case to the jury.

Rev. J. B. COTTRELL, D. D.

Rev. Cottrell, of Franklin Ky., once pastor of the Methodist church here, was on a visit to Louisville. Mr. C. W. D. D. and was prevailed on to remain over on Thanksgiving day and fill Rev. W. C. Brandon's pulpit. In spite of the severity of the weather and the difficulty of getting to the church, there was a good congregation. The doctor entertained his audience for an hour or more in his vestry, and when he had finished he left the better for being present.

His text was, St. John xiii, 3-5: "Jesus knowing that the Father had given all things into his hands, and that he was from God, and went to God: He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments and took a towel, and girded himself. After that he poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and with them with the towel wherewith he was girded."

He made special mention of the fact that Christ, on first realizing that all was His, addressed himself to the very humblest service; not theatrically, but because it was a service most immediately, at hand and merciful. How appropriate that we here to come suddenly on a fortune, he would get on a street and make a fool of himself in expensive display and fantastic manners. He said it was only as one grows up that he becomes a good man.
